is pleased to announce the

October Parent Information Meeting:

Strategies and Accommodations for Children with Learning Disabilities and/or Attention Difficulties

The focus of this meeting, presented by the Connecticut Parent Advocacy Center (CPAC) is to familiarize parents with strategies that can help their children succeed in the regular education classroom. Topics include: learning how to contribute to the development of the IEP and understanding the range of modifications and accommodations that can support a child in the general education curriculum. Participants will leave with several easy-to-use ideas and tools that can help their children be more successful at home and in school.

Join Holly D-McCarthy, Kathy Slade from CPAC, and other parents who have children with special education needs as we explore strategies and accommodations to help students experience success. Light refreshments will be served!
